INDEX TO VOL. II.

Absent, Lines to the, 8.

Acquaintance, the Bores of my, 284.

Adventures in South America, No III.—The Nunnery, 536.

Alison's History of Europe, Review of. 65.

America, Life in, No. I. 444. No. II. 558.

Anacreontic, 248.

Arnaud, Henri, and the Vaudois, 512.

Ballad, by Robert Gilfillan, 83, 256.

Barrington's Sir Jonah, Character of the Irish Peasantry, 509.

Belfast Natural History Society—Notice of, 228.

Berenger, Translations and Adaptations, from, No. I. and II. 255.

Berri, Duchess of, in La Vendee, Review of, 655.

Bodkin Pierce, History of, 456.

Bores, the, of my Acquaintance, 284.

Boxer, the Dead, an Irish Legend, 617.

Cabinet Library—Nubia and Abyssinia, Notice of, 237.

Canzonet, 210.

Carouse, the, 166.

Cause, the good old, 241.

Cavan, an Excursion into the County of, 391. Kilmore Palace, ib. Crum Castle, 392. The Rev. Mr. Martin, 393. Pluralities, 394. Killegar, 395. New Board of Education, ib. Lord Farnham, 396. Rustic Fete Champetre, 397.

Church Establishment in Ireland, 402. Hostility to, ib. Whig Liberality, 403, Cautions to the Landed Proprietory, 404. Accusations of Dr. Doyle, as to the injustice of the Tithe System, ib. Endowment of the Church of Rome, 407. Discontent of the People, ib. Carlow Bible Discussion, extract from, ib. Indifference of the Lay Gentry, 408. Opposition to the Landlords, 409. Advice to the Protestants, 410.

Circuit Notes, No. II. 576.

College Reform, Letter on, 214.

Condemned Soldier, the, a Tale, 398.

Confession, recent, of the Devil, to a renowned statesman, 470.

Contrast, the, 178.

Court Martial, the, a Tale, 33.

Crisis, the Coming, an historical study, 1.

Critical Notices—The Irish Flora, 119. Withering's Botany, 120. Fergus on Nature and Revelation, 229. M'Kay's Cicero, 233. Tales of my country, 234. M'Gregor's History of Ireland, 235. Murphy's Classical Atlas, ib. Ewing's Geography, ib. Motherwell's Poems, 236. Wills on Church Establishments, ib. Russell's Nubia and Abyssinia, 237. Turkey and its Resources, 353. The Young Man's Own Book, 356. Hart's Medulla Conciliorum, ib. Sillery on the Sufferings of Christ, 358. The Civil Code, from the French, 477. O'Ruarc. an Irish tale, 479. Manual of Chemistry, 480. Juvenilia, ib.

Day at Loughsheelan, 324.

Dead Boxer, the, an Irish Legend, 617.

Desart Wind, the, 323.

Devil, recent confession of the, 470.

Dialogue between the Head and Heart of an Irish Protestant, 586,

Dramatic Scenes from Real Life, review of, 420.

Dublin Royal Society, notice of, 226,

Elegies, on heroic, 202.

Enigma, by the Hon. R. B. Sheridan, 32.

Epistles from London, No. III. 155. No. IV. 339.

Excursion in the County of Cavan, 391.

Falls of Tequendama, a Trip to the, 349.

Fergus on Nature and Revelation, notice of, 229.

Fire, the late, 300.

Flibustier, the—a Tale, 179.

Fragments of my Tour, No. I., 289.—London, ib. Ostend, 291. Bruges, 293. Antwerp, 294. The Scheldt, ib. Female courage, 296. Chassé, 297. The Dutch, ib. Iron Foundry at Liege, 298. Huge Mortar, ib. The Citadel of Antwerp, 299. No. II.—Van Laucker's collection of pictures, ib. Burial-place of Rubens, 549. Brussels, 552. Waterloo, 555. Position of the Belgians, ib.

France, civil code of, translated by M'Kenna, notice of, 477.

French Revolution, the, No. II., 65.

Geology, No. I., 167.

Germans, chivalrous romances of the, 23.

Goethe's posthumous works, No. I., Faust, 361.

Gold and Silver, the Chinese empire, 42.

Guide to an Irish Gentleman in search of a religion, review of, 303.

Greece and Turkey, sketches of, 18.

Hart's Medulla Conciliorum, notice of, 356.

Haunted Grange, the, a Tale, 693.

Hints from High Places, No. II., 265.

History, the, of Pierce Bodkin, 456.

Horæ Academicæ, No. I. The plain of Cayster, 211. No. II. Virgil Eneid X. 211.

Indian Poetry, 390.

Ireland, No. I.—Political economy, 433. Dr. Chalmers' doctrine, 434. Redundancy of food, 435. Inland navigation the means of promoting agriculture, ib. Consumption of wheat, 436. Land not sufficiently cultivated, ib. Not arising from want of capital, ib. Want of confidence, and security to the capitalist, ib. Mr. Williams' work on inland navigation, the Shannon, ib. Facility of intercourse, 437. Richness of the soil, 438. Defect from want of landing places on the Shannon, 439. Length of canals, 440. Rise and progress of canal navigation in England, ib. Expenditure on canals compared with Ireland, 441. Report of the parliamentary committee, 442. No. II.—Filth of Irish towns, 665. Habitations for poor tenants, 667. Beggars, ib. Subletting act, 668. Evidence of Mr. Nimmo, ib. Charitable institutions, 669. Poor laws in England, 670. Popish priests, 671. Misery in Connaught, ib. Benefit from public works, ib. Report of the agricultural committee, 672. Proposed ship canal, 673. Kingstown railroad, 674. Roads and cars—enterprise of Mr. Bianconi, 675.

Ireland, history of, by M'Gregor, notice of, 235.

———, Barrington's historic memoirs, review of, 509.

———, the church establishment in, 402.

Ireland, political state and prospects of, 601. Effects of the emancipation bill, ib. Reform bill, 602. Destruction of the Irish church, ib. Suppression of the charter schools, ib. Transfer of the public offices, ib. Alienation of the Protestants, 603. Repeal of the union, ib. The Catholic clergy, 604. Proposed to be paid by the government, 605. Ruinous consequences of such a measure, ib. Mr. Sheil's sentiments on repeal, ib. O'Connell's power, 606. Effects of a separate legislature in Ireland, 607. How the government should act, ib. House of Commons, 610.—Farce of pledges given by members, 611. The new system, 614. Delusion of half measures, ib. Rebellion, 615.—Protestant attachment, ib. Great talent of the repeal advocates, 616.

Irish Flora, the, notice of, 119.

—— Literature, 227.

—— Peasantry, character of the 509.

—— Gentleman, in search of a religion, review of, 101—104.

—— Gentleman, guide to, review of, 303.

Italy, Mignon's song, in remembrance of, 703.

Job, lines from, 348.

La Gondoliere, 556.

Lawyer's, the, last brief—Chap. I., 135. Chap. II., 138. Chap. III., 257.

Le Dragon Rouge, 386.

Legend of the Dead Boxer, 617.

Letter on college reform, 214.

Lines upon a seal, having a scull for the device, 264.

—— from Job, 348.

Literary reform, 530.

London, familiar epistles from, No. III. Down the Thames, and up the Thames, 155. Greenwich and Richmond, 156. Wordsworth's Poetry, 161. No. IV. 339. The aristocracy, 341. The waggons, 343. Hackney coachmen, 345. Steam boats, ib. The opera, Sontag, Pasta, Malibran, 348.

Loughsheelan, a day at, 324.

Men and manners in America, review of, 444, 558.

Mignon's song in remembrance of Italy, 703.

Moore's Travels of an Irish Gentleman, review of, 101, 144.

Morgan, Lady, "Dramatic scenes from real life," review of, 420.

Motherwell's Poems, notice of, 236.

Music, irregular ode to, 153.

—— remarks on Scottish, 55.

My first steeple chase, 570.

My uncle's manuscripts, 513.

"My Auld Grey Plaid"—Song, 616.

Nature, the voice of, 64.

Natural philosophy, No. I. 167.

Notes, Circuit, No. II. 576.

Notes of a Tour through Palestine, 676.

Ode to Music, 153.

O'Ruarc, an Irish tale, notice of, 479.

O'Sullivan's Guide to an Irish Gentleman, review of, 303.

Palestine, Notes of a Tour through, Chap. I. Jerusalem, 676. Calvary, ib. Mar Michael, 677. Church of the sepulchre, ib. The King's dale, 679. Mosque of Omar, 680. Synagogues, 681. Camels, ib. Bethany, ib. Bethlehem, 682. Solomon's gardens, 683. Chap. II. Emmaus, 683. Hawarah, 684. Nabloose, 686. Nazareth, 688.

Phelan's Life and Remains, review of, 481.

Philosophy, Natural, No. I. Geology, 167. Feeble efforts of the ancient philosophers, ib. Important truths discovered by the Pagan priesthood, ib. Thales of Miletus, ib. Pythagoras, the earliest teacher of Astronomy, 168. Plato, Aristotle, ib. Progress of mathematical science among the Arabians, ib. Geometry successfully cultivated in the middle ages, 169. Discoveries of Archimedes, ib. Printing, ib. Lord Bacon, 170. Progress of chemistry, ib. Improvement in the arts, 171. Natural history, ib. Mineralogy, 173. Mechanical philosophy, 174. The Atmosphere, ib. Electricity, 175. Galvanism, ib. Astronomy, ib. The Earth, ib. The Climate, ib. Laplace's investigations, ib. Optics, Dr. Brewster, ib. Invention of the Microscope, 176. Playfair, ib. Languages, ib. Animal and vegetable kingdoms, ib. Fossil remains, 177. Zoology, Anatomy, Physiology, ib. Conchology, Botany, ib.

Places, Hints from High, No. II. 265.

Poetry—Lines to the Absent, 8. The Star of Darkness, 41. The voice of Nature, 64. Ballad by Gilfillan, 83. Summer Recollections, 130. Song—The Poets of Scotland, 131. Don Goméz and the Cid, 143. The Carouse, 166. The Contrast, 178. Canzonet, 210. Anacreontic, 248. Translations and adaptations from Berenger, 255. Lines upon a seal having a scull for the device, 264. On Life, 299. The late Fire, 300. The Desart Wind, 323. Lines from Job, 348. Song, 385. Indian Poetry, 390. To Hero's Torch, 410. Sonnet, No. I., Night, 443. "Haud Credo Dubito," 455.—Henri Arnaud and the Vaudois at the Pass of Salabertrand, 512. Song—"Here in this lonely Cave," 529. Pensieri, No. I., 547. Sonnet, No. II., Morning, 556. La Gondoliere, ib.—Farewell, 593. Willie and Pate, a County Down Pastoral, 575. Song—"My auld grey plaid," 616. "Mon Agonie," 690. The Tale of the Tub, 691. Mignon's song in remembrance of Italy, 703.

Poets of Scotland—song by Gilfillan, 131.

Politics, a few words on general, 596.

Political state and prospects of Ireland, 601.

Posthumous works of Goethe, No. I., Faust, 361.

Protestant, Irish, dialogue between the head and heart of an, 586.

Recollections, summer, 130.

Remarks on Turkey and Greece, 9. On the chivalrous romances of the Germans, 23. On the history of Rome, 48. On the music of Scotland, 55. On the French Revolution, 65. On the crisis of the battle of Waterloo, 121, 411, 594. On heroic elegies, 202. On College reform, 214. On the improvement of canal boats, 239. On the church establishment in Ireland, 402. On Life in America, 444—558. On the reformed ministry and parliament, 465. On general politics, 596. On the political state and prospects of Ireland, 601.

Reform, on literary, 530.

Reformed ministry and the reformed parliament, 465. King's speech, ib. Ireland—Whig Government, 466. Church reform, ib. Corporation commission, ib. West India slavery bill, 467. Mr. Stanley, ib. Whig economy, ib. Bank charter, 468. Lord Althorp, 469.—Bristol riots, caused by reform, ib.

Review of, Slades Travels in Turkey and Greece, 9. Of Sketches of Greece and Turkey, 18. Of Alison's History of Europe, during the French Revolution 65. Of Moore's Travels of an Irish Gentleman, 101, 144. Of O'Sullivan's Guide to an Irish Gentleman, 303. Of Lady Morgan's Dramatic Scenes, from real life, 420. Of "Men and Manners in America," 444. Of Phelan's Life and Remains, 481. Of Barrington's Memoirs of Ireland, 509. Of Dermoncourt's Duchess of Berri in La Vendee, 655.

Revolution, the French, No. II. 65.

Rivals, the, a tale, 84.

Romances, chivalrous, of the Germans, 23.

Rome, history of, remarks on, 48.

Scientific surveys, Derry, 227.

Scotland, remarks on the music of, 55.

———, the poets of, 131.

Signs of the times, political state and prospects of Ireland, 601.

Sillery on the sufferings of Christ, notice of, 358.

Sketches of Greece and Turkey, review of, 18.

Slade's Travels in Turkey and Greece, review of, 9.

Soldier, the condemned, a tale, 398.

Songs, by Gilfillan, 83, 131, 256, 616.

Song, "When the warm tide of passion is chill'd round the heart," 385.

——, "Here in this lonely cave," 529.

Sonnets,—No. I., Night, 443. No. II., Morning, 556.

South America, adventures in, 536.

Star, the, of darkness, 41.

Steeple chase, my first, 570.

Summer recollections, 130.

Tale of the Tub, 691.

Tales of my country, notice of, 234.

Tales and Narratives—The court martial, 33. The rivals, 84. The lawyer's last brief, 132—257. The Flibustier, 179. The Unknown, 250. Fragments of my Tour, No. I., 289; No. II., 548. A Day at Loughsheelan, 324. Trip to the Falls of Tequendama, 349. Excursion in the County of Cavan, 391. The Condemned Soldier, 398. The History of Pierce Bodkin, 456. Adventures in South America, No. III. The Nunnery, 536. My first Steeple Chase, 570. Circuit Notes, No. II., 576. The Dead Boxer, 617. The Haunted Grange, 693.

Tequendama, trip to the falls of, 349.

Times, signs of the, 601.

Tour, fragments of my, No. I., 289; No. II., 548.

Travels of an Irish Gentleman, review of, 101—144.

Turkey and Greece—The Sultan and Capo d'Istrias, 9.

Turkey and its Resources, notice of, 353.

University Intelligence, 112, 222, 704.

Unknown, the, a tale, 250.

Voice of Nature, the, 64.

Waterloo, the crisis of, 121. Major Gawler's reply to Sir Hussey Vivian, 411—594.

Willie and Pate, a County Down Pastoral, 575.

Wills on Church Establishments, notice of, 236.

Withering's Botany, by M'Gillivray, notice of, 120.

Words, a few, on general politics, 596.